

Robert Louis Stevenson

CREATIVE WRITING COMPETITION

A unique opportunity for creative writers in all Scottish schools.

Robert Louis Stevenson lived a life of travel and adventure as colourful and engaging as the world-famous writing he left behind.

Now is your chance to write a piece of creative writing inspired by the great RLS and to win £100 and a place in a writer's masterclass with renowned Scottish author Louise Welsh.

You don't have to be studying Stevenson in class, have a look at the RLS website and it will give you a wealth of ideas.

Choose from one of the following categories: fiction, poetry, reflective writing or writing in Scots.

Open to pupils in S4, S5 and S6.

You may submit creative writing produced for your SQA folio.

Full submission information available from your school or www.robert-louis-stevenson.org/writing-competition

For further information contact: D.Milne@napier.ac.uk

CLOSING DATE:
18TH APRIL 2019

